

Directions for assembly: Model CPF – Covered Platform Feeder

Dome assembly

1. Install the O-Ring $\frac{1}{4}$ " below the curved end on the rod.
2. Slide the Collet Knob onto the rod.
3. Insert the rod through the center of the Universal Cover.
4. Slide the Collet Insert onto the rod with the threads facing upward.
5. Place the Collet Insert into, the 1" diameter hole, in the Universal Cover so that the threads on the Collet Insert extend up through the cover.

Note: Do not engage the tab on the Collet Insert into the slot in the cover.

6. Screw the Collet Knob onto the threaded Collet Insert to tightly secure the cover.

Tray assembly

1. Screw the Short Rod Nut onto the rod, to the top of threading.
2. Insert the DCF Plastic Insert up into the hole in the tray, so that the flanges are on the bottom.
3. Place the UN Washer on the top of the tray over the hole.
4. Insert the rod through the UN Washer and screw the rod into the DCF Plastic Insert until snug.

The height of the dome is adjustable on the rod by loosening the Collet Knob, sliding the Cover up or down on the rod, and tightening the Collet Knob. The Cover can be lowered to within a couple inches of the tray to keep out large birds.

You can either hang or pole-mount your Covered Platform Feeder. The DCF Plastic Insert is threaded to accept the Droll Yankees Threaded Pole Adapter (ADPT). This part comes with our Garden Pole (GP) and Flower Garden Pole (FGP) and is also available separately. Simply screw the ADPT into the threaded DCF Plastic Insert and slip the stem into the open pole for quick and easy removal of the feeder for filling or cleaning. A Suet Link (SL) can also be screwed into the threaded area to hang a suet feeder or another small feeder.

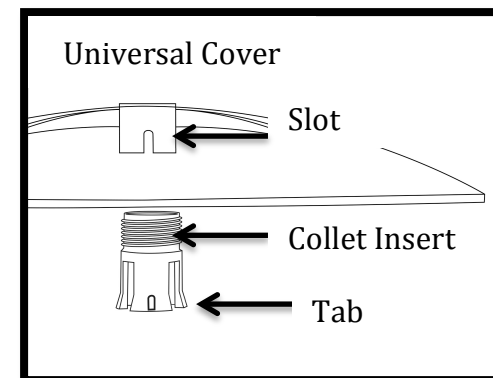

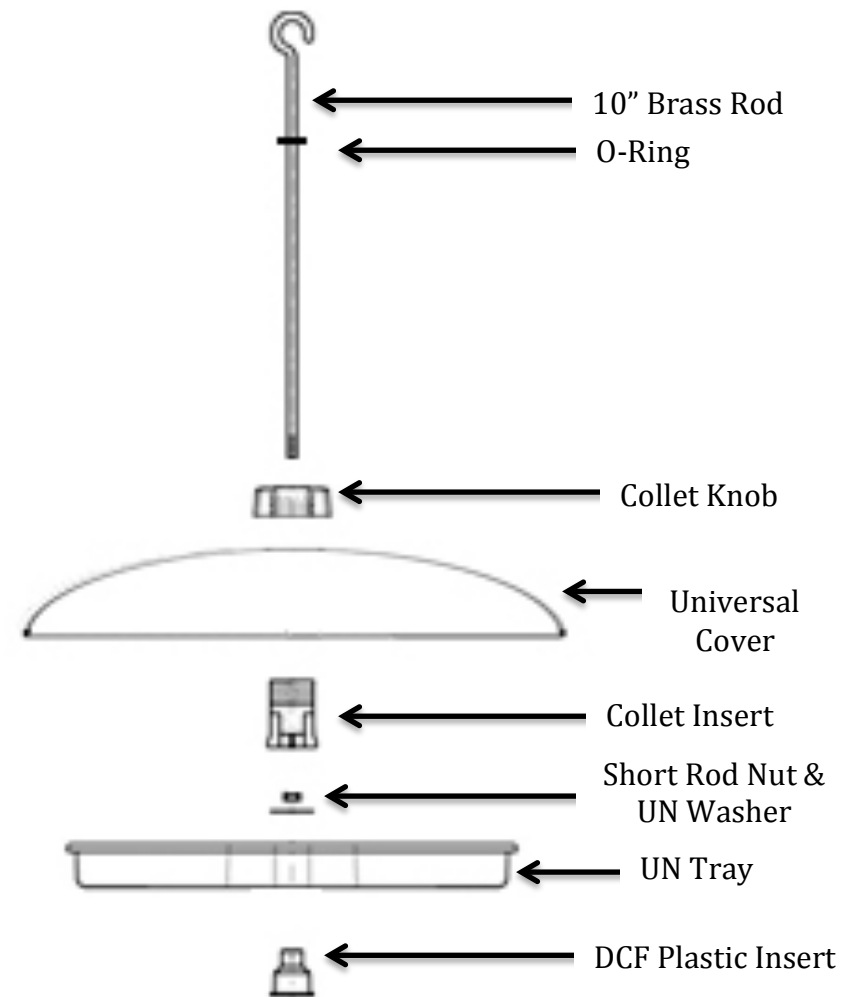

LIFETIME WARRANTY AGAINST SQUIRREL DAMAGE: Droll Yankees will replace any defective part free of charge, for as long as you own your Droll Yankees feeder. If your feeder is badly damaged by squirrels, to the extent that the effectiveness of the feeder is compromised, Droll Yankees will, at its option, either repair, replace or send replacement parts, free of charge. This warranty does not extend to damage through improper use, improper cleaning, weather, neglect, abuse, modification, disassembly, or falls. Raccoon and bear damage is not covered.

Complete written warranty can be located at www.drollyankees.com.

How to Maximize Your Backyard Bird Experience

Placement: Birds feel vulnerable out in the open, so try to place your feeder near a bush or tree but not too close where squirrels can jump on it. If you have other feeders, placing a new one near an older one will help the birds get used to it. These creatures of habit could take weeks to feel comfortable at a new feeder.

Mounting: Hang your feeder with a hook or chain or mount it on a bird feeder pole.

What to offer: Consider food like seed, mealworms, suet or fruit to attract different bird species.

When to feed: Feeding year round is good for the birds and gives you the most enjoyment.

Water: Birds need a regular supply of water for both drinking and bathing.

Cleaning: Please, for the sake of the birds, keep your feeders clean! Dirty feeders can harm the birds. Use a mild soap and water solution and a soft bristle brush for thorough and simple cleaning. Dry completely before filling with seed. Set a schedule that's easy to remember, like the first of every month.

Discourage: Place your feeder 4 feet from the ground and 8 feet from anything a squirrel can jump from, like trees or buildings.

Just Feed Birds and Make a World of Difference. It's true. Because when you feed birds, you help more baby birds survive. More birds will eat more insects, so you'll need fewer chemicals to control them. Using fewer chemicals will make the environment healthier for you, your children, your pets, our water supply... and wild birds.

We can make a world of difference, one bird feeder at a time.
